at the

PLAUT-CADDEN CO.'S STORE

A BRILLIANT DISPLAY

It is a fixed principle of this house to exclude diamonds that are even slightly imperfect. Not everybody can afford to give diamonds as holiday gifts, but everybody who is thinking of buying diamonds should at least take the precaution of making sure that the stones are of high quality, as stones that are not of very little value.

Buying diamonds of us means getting tested stones. It means safety as well as economy.

Buying diamonds of us is essentially a form of investment safe investments.

The value of high-grade diamonds goes up steadily and stones bought now of us will undoubtedly be worth appre-ciably more in twelve months time.

Duck hunters claim that the season for black duck and shore birds has been poor about Mumfords Cove and Groton Long Point, where they usually hove around the salt water creeks, looking for bait. The season has been so mild that the fowl have remained on the south side of Fishers island, whereas a good snow storm would have driven them to the mainland.

TO REMOVE LIMIT

ON POSTAL SAVINGS

Many of the Depositors Have Already Reached $500 Limit.

Washington, Dec. 21.—The $500 limit upon postal savings bank deposits will be removed in the near future, according to statements at the postoffice department today. This limit has already been reached by many depositors and the bank trustees have been urged to permit deposits without any limitation whatever as to the amount.

Postmaster General Hitchcock received petitions today from several national banks in various parts of the country requesting the trustees to increase the limit indefinitely.

In informal discussions of the matter with bankers, Mr. Hitchcock has become convinced that they now realize that the postal savings system is not seriously inimical to their interests.

ANOTHER RHODE ISLAND

House Yesterday.

Washington, Dec. 21.—The turkey question made its appearance today at the White house and President Taft referred the matter to the White house cook. It came in the guise of a bird from Rhode Island, intended to grace the president's dinner table on Christmas day. It weighed 40 pounds and was raised especially to crown the White house feast.

Mrs. E. F. James of New London has been in Willimantic, called there by the death of her mother, Mrs.
Charles A. Royce.

Miss Rose May Cook, daughter of Mrs. Mary Cook of New London, is home from teaching in Griswold for two weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Potter have returned from a visit of several weeks to Dorchester, Mass. with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer Potter.

Miss Teresa C. Murphy, who is teaching at Quaker Hill, will pass her vacation with her mother and sister, Mrs. Julia Murphy, in New London.

Miss Martha Chappell of Montville has gone to New Britain, where she will spend several weeks with her nephew, George W. Hawkey, formerly of Uncasville.

Miss Alice E. Copeland, a member of the senior class of the Norwich Free Academy, left for Thursday evening, leaving her home in New London, to spend the Christmas vacation at her home in Chaplin.

There is local interest in the New Haven item that the three sons of Mrs. Edward C. Bourne of Mansfield street, William, James and Edward, returned Wednesday from Taft school in Watertown, for the Christmas vacation.

Rev. George C. Chappell was the guest of Rev. P. C. Wright of the Central Baptist church Monday. Rev. and Mrs. Chappell have been invited to assist Mr. Wright in special evangelizing efforts during the Christmas vacation.

Wright will be the preacher and Mr. and Mrs. Chappell will lead the singing.

Up to their ears in Christmas packages and mail matter the employees of the local postoffice are in the midst of the most strenuous period of the year and they will be glad when the next ten days are over. The Christmas trade has started in strong and there is no slackening of activity toward the close of the year. There were 160 additional sacks of mail sent out from the local office, while there were 125 received and distributed for prompt delivery. These sacks all contained holiday goods of one kind or another from postcards to large packages.

In many cases the sacks were labeled for the different states for which they were intended, and were being sent out to New York to be re-assorted.
This is a new move and one which will relieve the work in the big city greatly when other cities take up this morning an express wagon will be put on with an additional carrier for the purpose of distributing the packages and if necessary two will be used. This is a great relief to the carriers and aids in the prompt delivery.

Postmaster Caruthers states that the money order and registry department has been very busy and that there has been a great many registered packages this year. He states that as a general rule the packages are well wrapped and that there are some instructions were read with profit and the addresses for the most part are plain and well written. It is noticeable in handling the mail matter to see the great number of Red Cross stamps being used, practically everything bearing one of the seals. The mail is so full of little bits of paper to the clerks.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF

AND AN INJUNCTION.

Reached by Jury in Case of Garlington vs. Blissville Mills Co. After Long Deliberation.

When the superior court resumed its session on Thursday morning it was for the further consideration of the case of Garlington vs. the Blissville Mills Co., the jury being out for further deliberation on the matter of court. They occupied the entire morning considering the matter, and at 12:30 o'clock reported a verdict for the plaintiff and an injunction restraining the defendant from flowing the Garlington land, and the form of the injunction was submitted by the attorneys. When the jury first retired all favored a verdict for the plaintiff, but on the way back before the amount was decided upon.

In the afternoon a jury selected for the trial of the case of Musial vs. Kud-ski, out for $10,000 damages because the plaintiff was deprived of the use of the farm which he bought from the plaintiff from August until the following April, as the tenant refused to quit. The defendant gave a warranty deed in conveying the property.

It was necessary to pay for the property in securing the testimony, which made progress rather slow. The property is located in Salem near Gardiner Lake and was owned by Sidney A. Dolbear at the time of the sale, the family coming from Canada.
Mr. Dolbear had a lease of the farm until April, 1910.

The first witness was the plaintiff, Joseph Musial. During his testimony his wife became so anxious to prompt her husband that it was necessary for her to be spoken to. Mr. Musial testified to bringing his goods to the farm and not being able to get shelter for them. They were put under a shed, he said, but they might as well have been in the open field, for the rain soaked everything. August 31 Koski acted as interpreter.

Mrs. Musial was called to the stand just before the court closed for the day and was on the stand when adjournment was taken until this morning, the jury being excused, however, until next Tuesday, when the case will be resumed.

CENTRAL BAPTIST PHILATHEA.

Elected for the Year.

Tuesday evening the Philathea of the Central Baptist church met at Mrs.
C. L. Swann's home on Peck street for their monthly business meeting. After the regular routine of business the annual election of officers was held, as follows: President, Miss Emma Patton; vice president, Miss Nellie C. C.
K. Bailey and Miss Maud Franklin.
After the meeting was adjourned refreshments were served by the hostess and music, both vocal and instrumental, was enjoyed by all. The next meeting is with Mrs. C. K. Bailey.

VICE PRESIDENT OF FINISHING CO.

Henry B. Thompson Late of Joseph Bancroft & Sons Co.,

Will Assume His Duties February First.

One of the most important changes of the year in the cotton goods finishing trade is the announcement that Henry B. Thompson, late treasurer of the Joseph Bancroft & Sons Co., of Wilmington, Del., has just been elected a director and vice president of the United States Finishing company and will assume his duties February 1, 1912, making his headquarters at the office of the company, 320 Broadway, New York.

Mr. Thompson is one of the best-known figures in the finishing trade; his connection of approximately twenty-five years with Bancroft & Sons being sufficient testimony in itself of the place he has made for himself in the industry. It is the consensus of opinion among the trade that the United States Finishing company has made a wise move in bringing about the association of Mr. Thompson with the company. That the new relation will add materially to the strength and prestige of the corporation and will enhance the reputation of the executive department is generally agreed.

Criticism of large corporations in connection with their management is frequently that responsibility is placed in too few hands and the expression "one-man organization" is often applied. That such a designation is without foundation in the present instance needs no declaration. With the executive guidance of the company directed by Joseph H. Wright, president; F. S. Jerome, treasurer; and Henry B. Thompson, vice president, it would seem that the interests of the company were amply conserved in this respect and that everything has been done to provide for the future and its possibilities.
